

Description

ESD field service kit (portable "anti static" workstation) is for working on or repairing static sensitive devices "in the field". These kits are essential as they will prevent any build-up of harmful static charges which will damage components and assemblies.

These kits are available in Red or Blue colour and are supplied complete with a 3-layer work mat 600 x 550mm together with an adjustable wrist-strap and coil cord, a straight grounding cord and a packing wallet.
